Happy Spring!

VTP:

Pickleball Court is Open!

One court is open while the other is still under maintenance. As soon as the weather permits, the courts will be cleaned and repainted, which will once again limit the use of the courts...but only temporarily! So, get your racket out and shoes laced up...it's time to hit the court! As always, games are organized on TeamReach. Feel free to contact Darrell Morreau at 603-512-5116 for more information.

Inspiration to Travel – Guest speaker at the Clubhouse

An event sponsored by our neighbor, Paula Furlong, will be held at the Clubhouse on Thursday, May 7th, 6:30 – 7:30 p.m. Shells of Dream Travel will be presenting an informational session about the world of options in travel. Snacks and beverages will be provided. A sign-up sheet will be on the kitchen counter at the Clubhouse (strictly for use in setting up for the event and planning food/beverages).

Mary E. Bartlett Library's Book Club at VTP

On April 16 at 6 p.m., Jane Millett and Laura Braverman will be co-hosting the Mary E. Bartlett Library's book club in the Clubhouse (because the library is not available to us that night). We will be discussing The Lion Women of Tehran, by Marjan Kamali, and anyone interested in this discussion is welcome to join us. Please note, however, that the library has not ordered extra copies of the book, but there may be copies available a week before the meeting date
